JANUARY 2013
ANNO SOCIETATUS XLVIII

Attention Caerthens!
The Fortress has a magnificent name just like the many magnificent castles that were fortresses throughout Europe. I want to picture a different Fortress, or portion of a fortress each month. Inside I will put a little history of the castle or portion of the castle displayed on our cover.

I ask for your help. If you have a drawing or picture of a castle that you took of a favorite Fortress that you care to share, please fill out the permission form located on the Baronial web site and forward that with the drawing or picture to me at Chronicler@caerthe-sca.org. Please contact me if you have any questions.

YIS,
Jorunn nic Lochlainn

This month I have showcased the White Tower. A Norman monk by the name of Gundulf, Bishop of Rochester initiated the work for the White Tower in 1078. The White Tower, the square building with a tower on each corner, was originally built to accommodate the King and Queen of England and the Constable of the Tower. Later it became a prison and many beheadings were held on the grounds just outside the White Tower on the Tower Green. By the reign of Queen Elizabeth I, it was used as a storage house for the Queens Wardrobe and armory.

This is the January A.S. XLVIII (2013) issue of THE FORTRESS, published by and for the members of the Barony of Caerthe, SCA, Inc. It is available from the Chronicler. It is not a corporate publication of the Society for Creative Anachronism, Inc. and does not delineate SCA policies. THE FORTRESS may return any submission that mentions or implies anything illegal. THE FORTRESS may also return any item not in the spirit of the Current Middle Ages such as items not concerning the SCA and/or not of interest to SCA members. Submission deadline is the 15th of the previous month. Internal artwork by THL Wyndylyn is based on registered arms or badges for the various offices, unless otherwise noted. Greetings to the great and glorious populace of Caerthe,

We hope this new year brings you many good tidings and lots of Cheer. While so far this winter has been freezing, things look to heat up soon with the coming of the War Drums. HRM Garrick has decreed that the Outlands will once again participate in Estrella war and a primary opponent for the evil kingdom of Adtenveldt. I realize that Estrella war has become almost incidental for Caerthe and there is not a lot of interest in attending; however, if you are going I would love to have you fighting at my side as I will carry the carry the Caerthe banner into war. Other exciting things this year include our 2nd Tri-baronial A&S which was very fun last year and will be hard to be out done this year, but I know our fine autocrats will do everything in there power to make it so. Queens prize is on the horizon as well, so come out to both and show off all the fine talent your hiding, or just have fun like we do. Looking forward to seeing everyone this year at Caerthen 12th night. You may actually get this after 12th Night, and if that is the case I hope we got to see you and you had a great time. If not you should complain to THL Jethro because he needs more complaints.

Everyone have a great year. :)

Seneschals Report

Greetings Unto The Populace of Caerthe,

For years the barony has been searching for an alternative fighter practice site to Jefferson County Fairgrounds. We have been wanting a spot where all of our martial arts can be practiced at a comfortable indoor site. This subject has even been the core of some of my columns here in /The Fortress/. Well this month such a site is being made possible to us!

Count Flanagan and Countess Drahomira will be opening their new gym geared towards SCA fighting, The Art of Sword and Chivalry (TASC). TASC will offer many of the amenities that we crave (and even extra Duct Tape available for purchase). It is reasonably priced and even conveniently located just off Interstate 70.

Granted, the convenience of the location is subject to where one lives and works. Similarly, the reasonableness of the cost is also subject to one's point of view. The nightly fee, however, is cheaper than seeing /The Hobbit/ in IMAX. It is cheaper than a series at the bowling alley. It is far far cheaper than a day on the slopes. It can even be cheaper than a meal at Denny's after populace. In comparison to these activities it is reasonable. In comparison to other gyms, it is most definitely reasonable.

I recognize that TASC will still not be feasible for some of our members. For those members, please note that we will continue to have other practices. If the reason to not go is strictly cost however, then perhaps we can come together and help those individuals attend TASC practices. We pride ourselves on helping one another and this is an opportunity to do just that.

The Count and Countess have taken on an incredible risk in opening this venture. It is a venture that can be extremely beneficial to the barony. It is certainly the kind of place for which we have yearned for years. Here is our opportunity to help that dream succeed.
It remains my honor and privilege to serve as your seneschal

You must be able to produce this license upon request by the Event Stewards, Merchant Coordinator, or Adams County personnel. This is ONLY REQUIRED FOR FOOD AND DRINK VENDORS. As the forest home of the Stag is ever renewed by the sapling, so too are the Outlands enriched by those newly come to the practice of Art and Science. To that end, Yasamin Khatun, Patroness of the Arts, calls upon all artisans of humble station to seek a patron and to present themselves to vie for Her favour at Her Majesty's Prize Tournament. Further, She charges both those who hold a Grant or Patent in their art and the members of the Order of the Rose to seek out and prepare such budding artisans, that they might come without fear to this noble display and company to show the fruits of their study.

Queen's Prize Tournament is a celebration of beginning artisans in the Outlands. While Her Majesty will chose an entry upon which to bestow Her Prize, the purpose of QPT is to share the joy of one's art with others. Entries will not be scored; comments will be available for those who wish feedback.

Anyone holding a rank lower than a Grant in the Arts or Sciences may enter. Each entrant must be sponsored by either an individual who holds a Grant or higher in the Arts or a Lady of the Rose.
Please refer to the Kingdom Arts and Sciences page at kmoas.outlands.org for rules and regulations.
To register, please contact the Competition Coordinator at the email address below with the following information: Title of Entry, Entrant Name, Entrant Email, Sponsor's Name, Sponsor's Email.
Registration of entries will be due on or before February 8th, 2013. Please submit research papers electronically to the Competition Coordinator no later than January 28th, 2013.

Persona Pages

I am reserving this section of the Fortress for Persona Stories. I want to provide an arena for a very important part of what is encouraged when we join. Create a persona. A persona is all the characteristics of a person who would have existed in a certain time period, place and culture. I have posted the first part of my Persona Story as an example and I hope it's enjoyed. I certainly have enjoyed creating it. Please forward me copies of your persona story. Remember to send along a signed release form.
YIS,
Jorunn

Persona story continued…Escape

Life aboard Uncle Erik's longboat was hard. I have spent the past 3 months working as a cabin boy cleaning up after my uncle. So far, the men still treated me like a boy, but my body will soon become my enemy. More men, knowing I am really a girl, are watching me closely and I fear that soon one will take me. Finally, I overheard my uncle telling the men that we were going to raid the town of Dublin in Ireland. I remember my mother telling me before she willingly traveled to Valhalla with my Viking father, Dublin was not far from the village of Clontarf. Clontarf was the place where she was born and where I could find my real father. If I were going to escape, now was the time.
Later that night, the long ship was steered into the waters of the harbor to the village of Dublin. All the men were armed and ready. The other cabin boys and I were ready as well. Our job during raids like this was to follow the men and kill any wounded left on the field, stripping their bodies of anything of value. I was not particularly close to the other boys since they resented working with me so I was hoping they would not notice when I wandered away.
The long ship beached and as quietly as they could the men clambered ashore. Dogs barked and soon thereafter scream as my uncle's men broke open doors, raiding the village, house by house. I made sure I was the last one to leave the long ship. I followed and when the boys started killing the wounded fighting over the loot, I slipped away. I let the darkness be my shield and soon I had run far into the nearby woods. Out of breath and exhausted I looked for a place to hide. I came to a large tree with a huge trunk that had a small hole at the base. I was able to squeeze through the hole and found the tree hollow. The space was small but provided a good place to hide. I sat what seemed to be hours, listening to the distant screams. After awhile I fell asleep. When I awoke the entrance to my little sanctuary revealed daylight. I heard nothing, so I ventured outside. The morning air was filled with the smell of burning homes. Occasionally I could hear someone crying, but otherwise, it was quiet. I did not waste any time and started running away as fast as I could. I did not know if my uncle would come looking for me, but didn't want to find out. I was hungry and cold but the thought of freedom from the long ship fed my feet as they carried me farther away from the smoke. I was on my way to Clontarf.
